UBUNTU

The AKG group embraces the African philosophy of Ubuntu as a guiding principle in our ethos. Ubuntu, rooted in the belief of interconnectedness and shared humanity, resonates deeply with our values and shapes the way we operate as an organization.

At the heart of Ubuntu is the idea that we are all bound together by our common humanity, and our actions should reflect a sense of compassion, empathy, and respect for others. This philosophy informs our approach to business, relationships, and community engagement.

We prioritize building strong relationships based on trust, integrity, and transparency. We believe in treating every individual with dignity and respect, valuing their unique perspectives, experiences, and contributions.

"I am because we are."

OUR FIRM

The inception of the AKG Group occurred four decades ago, originating with Anil K Goyal and Associates-Chartered Accountants. Over the years, as our client base expanded steadily, so did their business and financial requirements. In response, we continually augmented our services by adding allied verticals, aiming to provide a comprehensive solution hub for all our clients' needs.

Founded by Mr Anil Kumar Goyal and his family, the vision has always been to carve out a niche where clients' needs are met with profound knowledge, continuously updated insights, forward-thinking strategies to address future uncertainties, innovative ideas for client growth and diversification, and facilitating connections among clients for mutual business expansion. All of this, delivered with genuine concern and humility by the non-family members of the AKG group, has earned us deep appreciation and loyalty from our clients, propelling us to where we stand today.

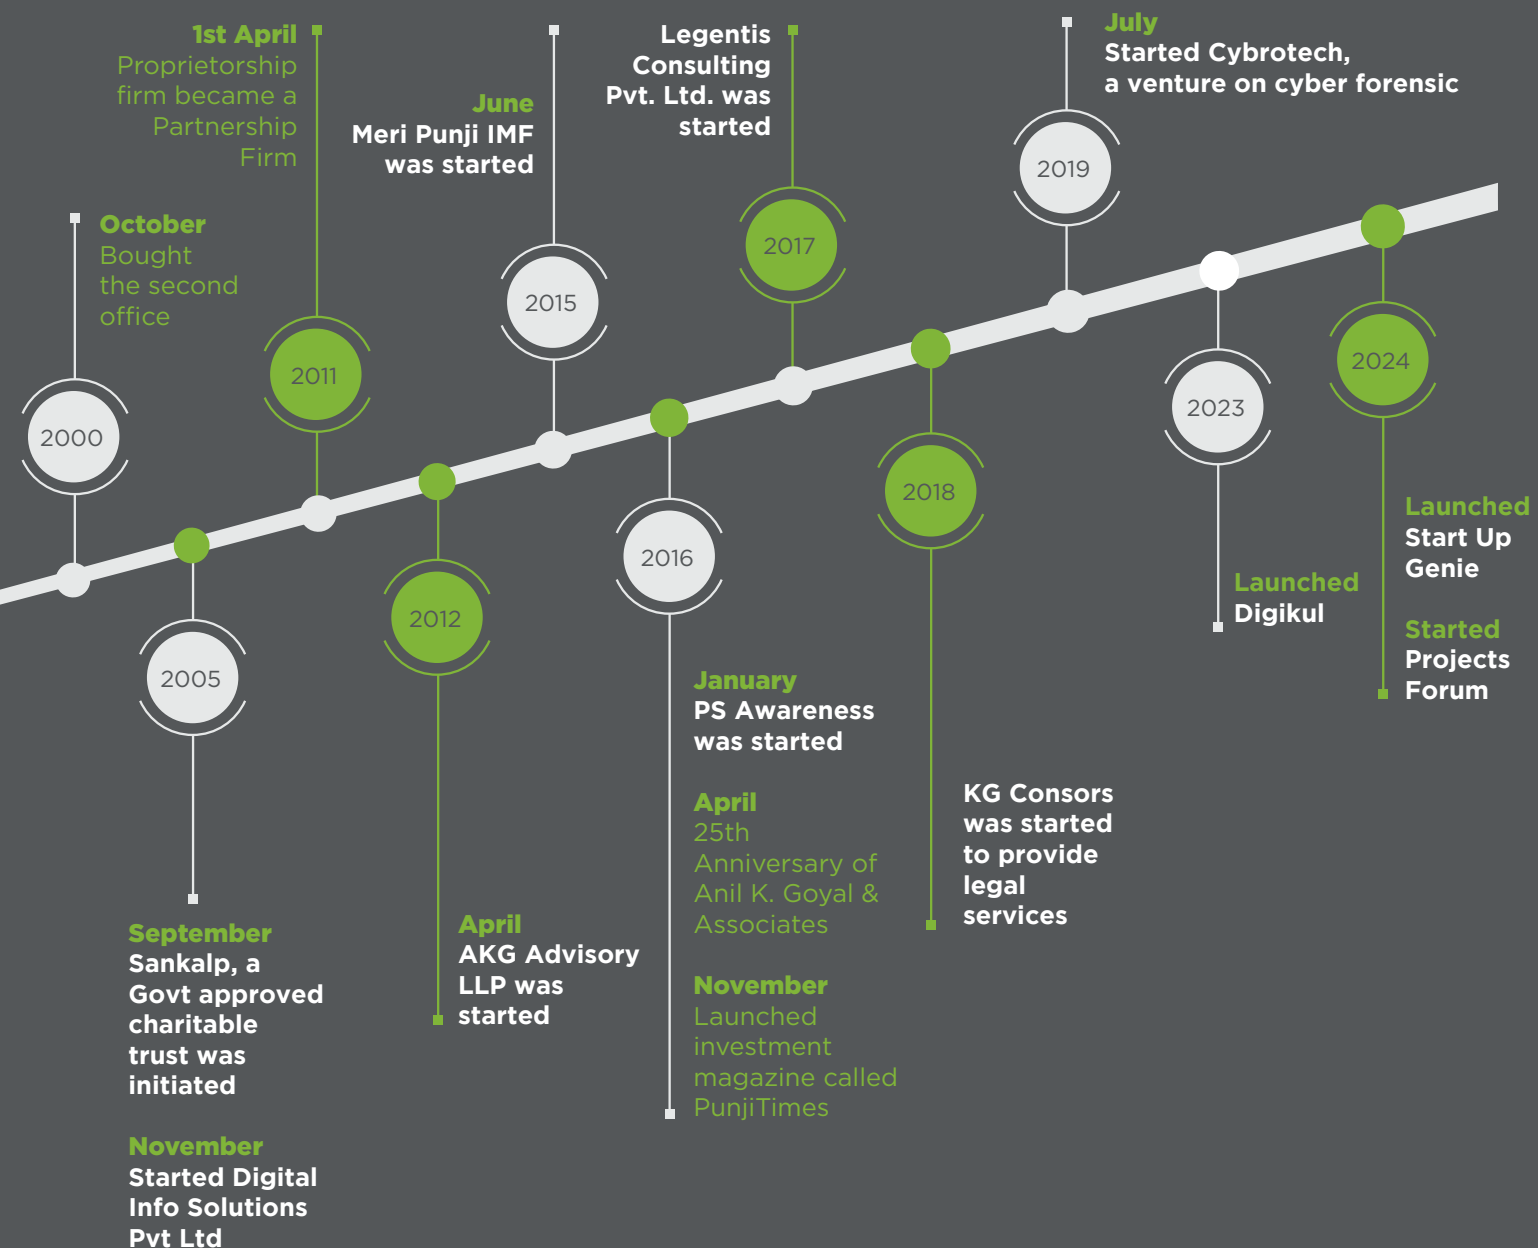

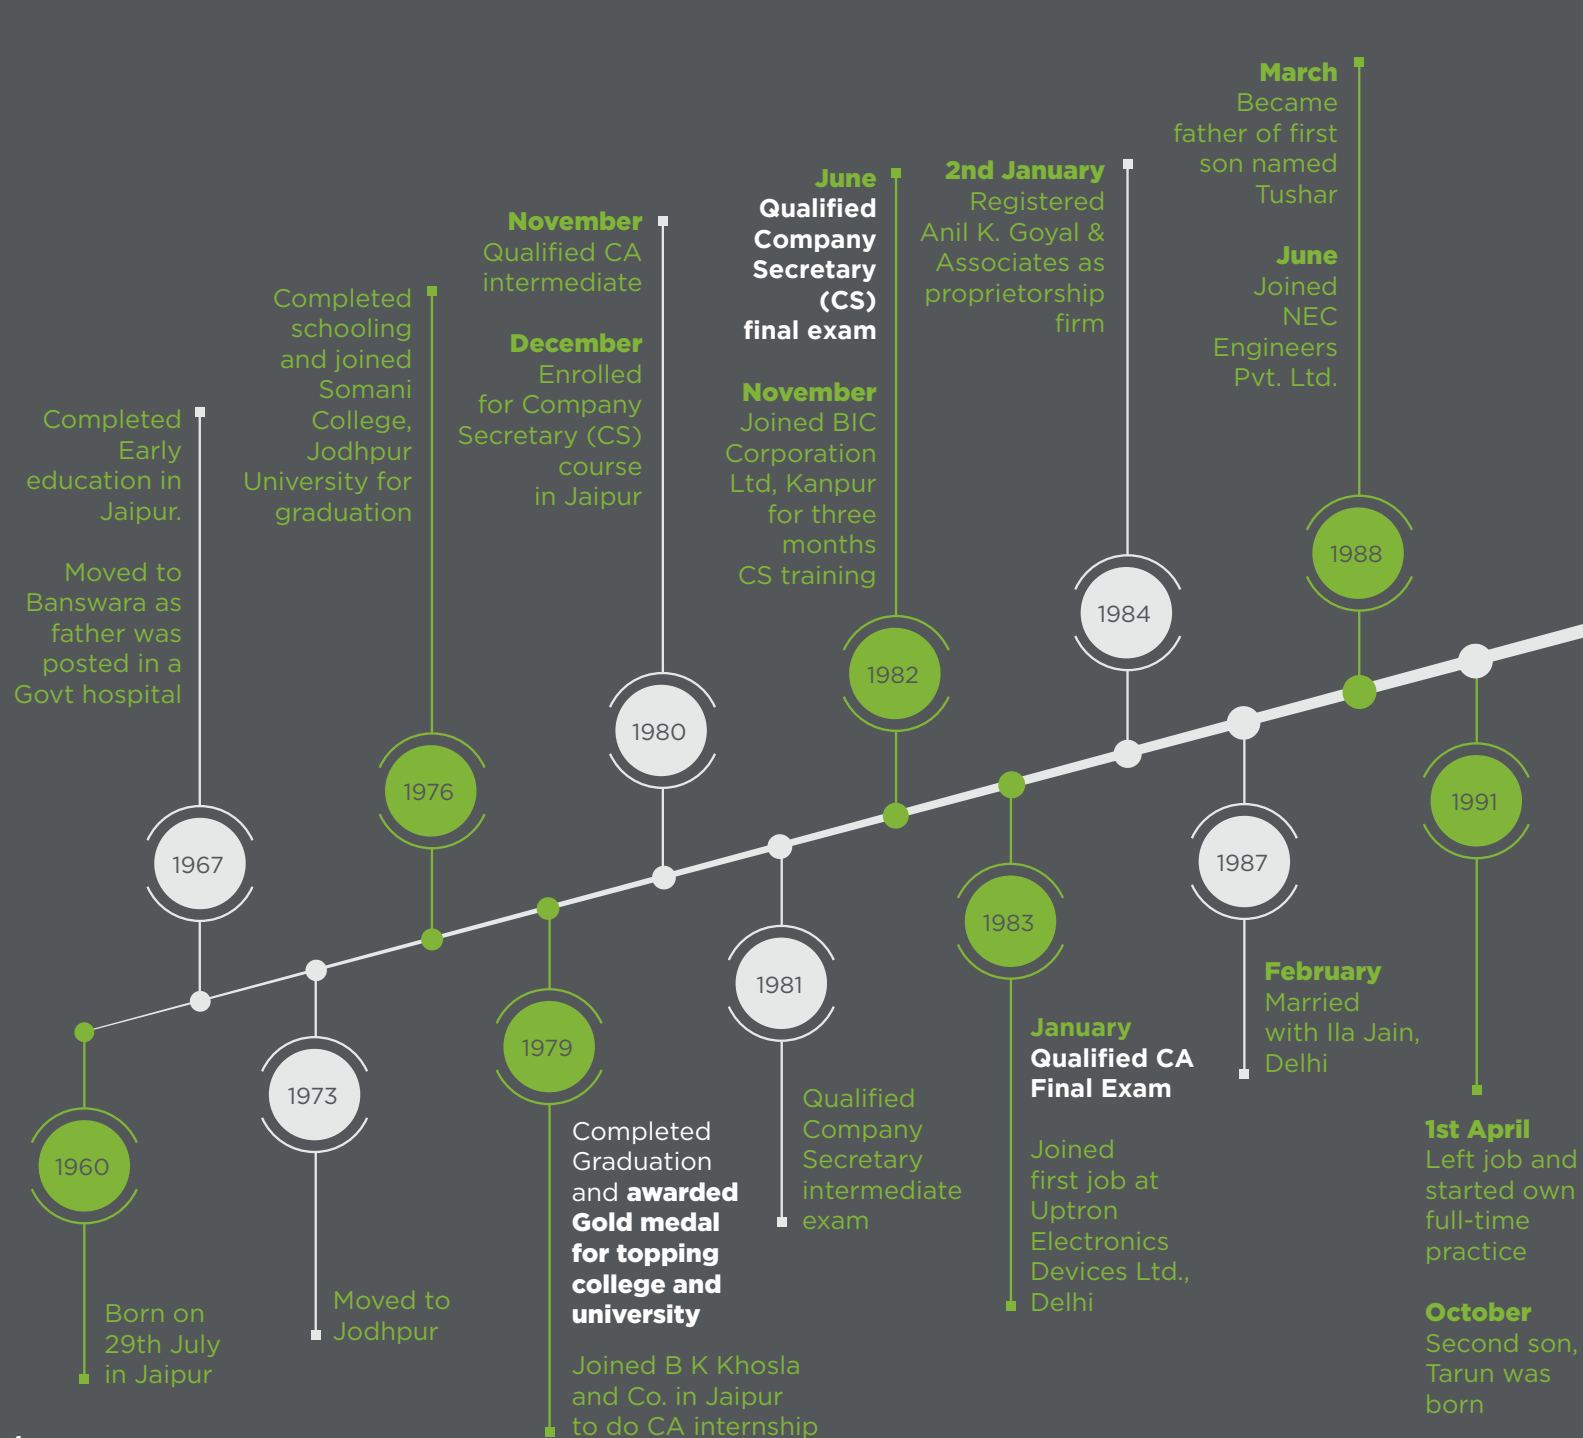

The AKG group has been fortunate to establish connections with numerous like-minded individuals, evolving from mere clients to cherished friends. This journey has provided invaluable lessons in human and business dynamics, shaping us into a team grounded in ethical principles and values, which is the cornerstone of our existence.

Anil's vision of a One-Stop Shop has manifested into reality. Today, our clients can rely on us as their trusted advisors for all their commercial or business matters, spanning conventional CA services, software and hardware solutions, IT-enabled services, treasury management, business strategy and structuring, offshore operations, cyber security, and comprehensive compliance services, including inheritance planning.

Have been with AKG now for almost 20 years.

Tried almost half a dozen Accountancy firms before settling with AKG.

They are extremely professional, on par with any International firm, if not ahead of them.

They are more than an accountancy firm, capable of being a one stop and looking after most of your needs and where they can't, they will always recommend highly professional tried and tested associates.

Since being on board with them, I have introduced friends from UK and UAE, who are also all dealing with them and extremely happy with their services.

They not only provide the services, but can help you grow your ideas and business and wealth.

Behind AKG is a team of professionals, working both autonomously and as a team to deliver, and it soon becomes an extension of your organisation, where you can reach out as and when required to get advice or implementation.

- Harash Jain, NRI-United Kingdom

But the relationship between me and AKG is not merely transactional - we have formed a true partnership and I know AKG is looking out for my interests. They came to my rescue during a business crisis in 2021. They are committed to my success. I consider all the highly professional and skilled employees of AKG my personal trusted friends.
